Mphasis (BSE: 526299; NSE: MPHASIS), an Information Technology (IT) solutions provider specializing in cloud and cognitive services, today announced that it has been recognized as a Global Systems Integrator (GSI) in the midsize segment in Forrester's – 'Now Tech: Application Modernization and Migration Services, Q1 2019' report. This report provides an overview of 42 services providers across service offerings, capability, vertical focus, and market presence.

"With technology at the core of business disruption today, companies understand that application modernization and cloud migration are non-negotiable. Most CIOs continue to face challenges with finding the right service provider who can understand their transformation roadblocks and be equipped to address it end-to-end. We believe this recognition is a testimony to our endeavor to enhance IT efficiency with agile architectures which not only enables growth but can instantly adapt and respond to changes in business demands; helping our clients stay relevant in this time and age," said Dinesh Venugopal, President – Mphasis Direct and Digital.

The Now Tech Report by Forrester attempts to streamline services providers evaluation process for organizations of various scale, digital transformation maturity across industries and geographies. Mphasis was recognized as a GSI in the mid-sized segment among services providers that align their modernization and migration services with cloud and digital go-to-market and services capabilities.
